Tuesday 27. Reached Mat last night but shut after nine. I and landlady's little party in full swing were to have been with me to take a drink though I rather I could have just tucked in and later perhaps decided to go to bed. There a steamer and this a.m. for I know of the last I could make the last, so I shall try the one that leaves tomorrow night. Of crowded means and the night in smoking room. Yes I spent the day packing around. My Carter stuff had been left at the R.R. Station in Matlana. He landed me with the express notice from Zornig. 20 lbs in for six days storage charges just about. Things were in good condition but everything had to be changed over into alcohol + restored for shipment home. The only way to get a copy of this is to pay freight to from here to Santa Cruz and back to see it off C.O.D. to Washington.

28th Oct. 28 Saw tide this a.m. at 10. We got up at 6 to make a last collection here before leaving the steamer, but struck it as such that I decided at the last minute to put in more time here, of course that means extra time at Olmanjito, but surely is worth the better than here. This necessitates unloading a lot of junk as I shall go to Olmanjito's heavily lighted is to speak & shall ship the boxes & heavy gear down ahead of the Rio Grande de San where I shall have to catch the boat for Matanzas.
 And one of the most glorious days yet, bright & clear & warm. Ran into a whole lot of Gehia in soft granite & got all manner of things out of their burrows. One of these Portland like crabs, one by the way, a new one where are showing right in the Gehia burrow.
 The crabs seem to seal themselves up in the burrows with plugs of mud, leaving just a little orifice for intercommunication. One of the plugs in the adjacent burrow is remarkably small. I had to get another crabs burrow, did get a few amphipods, 2 fish, another crabs.

Thursday Oct. 29, 1925. Yesterday after noon with a boy one putting up specimens.
 Gehia this one too. One extended the range of a number of species, and surely found a couple of new ones here. This afternoon was just as busy and as my steamer doesn't leave till the morning of the 31st am going again tomorrow. // The Uro- gelia are funny "critters" I wonder what they eat their burrows are all walled up except little vent holes for water and they seem to spend their life time in their particular tunnels. I've even dug in them for way down in the lowest story of the many ramifications of their homes there is usually a black plug enclosing the remains of fragments of one or more dead ones. Still the animals are good swimmers and quite active in the water, but the growth around the vent holes is of long standing and they surely don't go

only what do they feed on - I saved some of the brown linings to see if there will be skeletons of the animals but the walls are smooth + slick so that I don't expect Corydoras will find much. The granite in which they work is soft + friable, but at the same time how such feeble animals can make a tunnel is a wonder. I the peculiar Rand the ~~purpose~~ just for the purpose of digging. The ~~middle~~ middle finger is so much longer than the other that the Rand is what we call subchelate.
Probably they dig with the long finger as we did with holes with a crow bar. Two fingers of equal length would hinder such digging. I wish I could spend a month here with these animals one ought to put one in an aquarium with a soft piece of the granite and see if it actually could dig a hole.
Now it comes to mind why they are so well built for swimming, which to all appendages ~~the~~ don't indulge in. The same appendages are here used, going through the swimming motion to keep the tendrils erected, & if they have to keep of the current all the time. When out of water, as I noticed the pocket in which the animal lies, is below the level of the water holes & is low enough water to keep the animal moist. I got three more of those peculiar little organisms that were sticking to the side of the human. The least & most interesting thing I've found here. I would like to know what they are doing on the human.

Next year I'm going to flower places & spend about a month in each, instead of making so many stops. We live to learn & I've learned a great deal on this trip. That's why the interesting thing about study some groups of animals in the field, you always bring up something new. I have 1/2 gallons by the way, have spines on the back of the head as to effects, pointing forward.

I've always wondered why. Simpler thing in the world, when you try to pull them out of the skin, the spine rises up on all "four" and pushes the spine against the top of the tunnel - you pull the animal to pieces before it comes loose. The harder you pull the tighter the spines wedge. But if you find when tail sticking out of the head when you break it off, it pulls out very easily.

Kissner -

Said night is started to cloud up after another fine day (71.3° F), you seen I've been the night. The labeling & putting up of the specimens took me till pretty late, that the ground that splits all the fine. Fritz Müller didn't grip for several things though he knew of their great value to museum. He just travelled around & studied the animals

(and plants) and after his studies were complete he stands in the next with and saving the specimens. I could do quite a bit that way too. But what of the museum, if I didn't save anything. // Yes this a. m. is from a rainy kind just because I wanted to make a early start for another day to visit the Gelinas, at work if I could. I wanted all right thing when there was a lot of work but no more. Had I gotten on the ground than it rained harder than before. This is queer, but I always get soaked shoes & all the day before I move on to the next place. I especially wanted some more of those rare specimens, but didn't turn up one. They were about once to every 75 Gelinas, for a full hour a couple of hundred of them. As the Gelinas were known for this part of Brazil as far as I am aware. It's a rainy day all day. Am reading a box back to the house & have it put away as far as Santos

Oct. 31 - 1925 - Saturday. I knew something would go wrong. This was our sailing date for Ilheus, and the morning was bright, and clear - glorious weather. We looked around in the a.m. after I had done my final, + personal packing, putting the things to deal with in the suit-case etc. to see about sending my boxes to Rio Grande, a matter I did in advance, + found it could not be done, meanwhile we went by the steamship agent, and as you might suppose - clear day no departure. The steamer would be in until the 2nd. "This is it." The morning was gone, the tide was high, packed up and nothing to do. Schmidt and right away let's go swimming + as I hadn't had a dip since São Sebastião I was rather loath to wait along. Oliveira who had come down to the hotel for the final good byes didn't come to accompany us + went home. We had a fine time

In the way we sat around + bathed. I later worked over a few notes + turned in.
Ch'ago, Schmidt asked to accompany me in the a.m. as an early collecting trip.

Not to be out of the old ground Ripley tried a few things more, + especially the red shaped crabs of which I only had five but we turned up more, a lot of of common junk, but I hate to discard it as will turn out along to Ilheus - of which a little but packed in my hand.
We did get a little praying mantis over there we were going and two Callinectes the common thing, I am sure I believe. I got a small spider here at the hotel + gave it to Schmidt. Schmidt brought me a Katydid he found on the outside wall of the hotel. Common as can be no doubt and maybe not even interesting as a local record, but I'll send it along in due course. Oliveira dropped around for a call just about the time we planned to go swimming, so he went along, but wouldn't

The beach for swimming about 15-20 meters more water from the hotel. I collected along a drainage ditch in a and got a few of the common swamp spiders. I had neglected up till now are probably common for me but there was why I passed them by before. Still being the opposite I gathered them in.
Had I mentioned I got Enallagma and I think a Procyon. It was hard I got unpacked again by I had to to get the little suit for me then to do this extra little collecting for another.

The hotel to Liberton with mine + Schmidt's things today. He got a lot more for the here + because Schmidt and I had gotten pretty while we were out this a.m. moved his things into my room where there was a bed and bedding. I had a little of the stuff and a decided infatuation + they have decided to make the best of it, we are both much about it.
I guess when we come home I shall be talking and hanging out of my mouth. Who would ever have thought that I would be sleeping some day in the same room with another W. Schmidt.

Nov 2, Monday. Well this a.m. was a forgetting about where going a few days + finally got cars. Schmidt's baggage came to the room early to be about getting off his bundles. The steamer Barbary about 7 a.m. I arranged that Koster take mine on board too. He said the steamer would leave till 5 p.m. But Koster was strong + Schmidt followed me back I stayed over till before I finished dressing. A Phasma I brought from just F.W. fish + shrimp meanwhile, which had to be picked. After coffee we saw the stuff in boxes + light on to bed + then learned we could get out by boat. It was clear when we learned this (remembering in the steamer had one in) we had to get out pronto. Left at 12:30 arrived off staying after Sunday, cold rainy trip. ^{Nov 3} 8 p.m. we followed and all night. The ship arrived off the town. The food was + then 11 a.m. we shall eat ashore. The work will be done + peria I have yet to in all Brazil. I had been in a Barbary there Koster + Koster, but Koster's experience was not

Nov 4th

Just written from here as beginning the first (perhaps last) on Saturday of the 3d which began near bottom of preceding page. You think was the worst short trip. One made yet the food and dining service made me near see sick. Yes we had to eat a whole meal a bunch of crabs here twice as though the rest of the trip. Had chilly change weather most of the way. I don't know how close comes by the island with the mainland. The ingress, moved away just two months ago except for a few who had around till it opened for traffic some time in February.
This morning the 4th opened up bright sun. On 3rd night Schmidt introduced me to a student of the Bay by name who this morning took me to see a Herr Vahl owner of a few houses. Fritz Mueller, but he did not know the house was which F. Mueller lived in here. Though he did say there was a terrible Xanthippe, but when I questioned him further he said he didn't know her so well. Mueller was active, quite, most clean, and had infinitely patience, built + interesting. The school in which Mueller taught no longer existed.

Vahl family through the war of 1970 but 13
+ other places. My kin medals etc. etc.
76 years old. Came to Brazil in 1976

Schmidt was grand day Praia de Bona but it almost all gone sea walls etc.
+ houses all along. Rich place built over + so far as I could see very few left.
I shall try a days collecting tomorrow on if the weather permits. I had much more than gotten back for the hotel from Vahl's, when Schmidt was quite a sudden rain rain and then with clearing up most at 2.30 p.m. The sun is still pretty high, which will nearly spoil it for the morning for the tide are not at their best, there are very small runs and more.

The hotel is a nice place, the hotel, the German of course, + my window looks right out to see into square 10 mins. walk from the Praia de Bona on the other side of the triangle 10 mins of land (cut off by the city).

While I was telling the hotel clerk that I failed to find the house an old gentleman near by spoke up, said he knew Fritz Mueller, was a little boy + went to school with 3 others not F.M.'s house school the conductor and his boys, with the horse was still standing the place by the one off looks pretty new. I went by then the a.m. still all tight shot at it with the air cloud up again & looks like morning.

The gentleman is F. Sallentien, unpublished 1863-4 + 5, (which fits right in with what I know Muller has been '56-'67 I want to check my notebooks) I shall try to get a hold of him later on for other information of the bar in.

Nov. 5, Thursday, 1875. Sail night was too windy & rough for tomorrow haul & same tonight. It's cloudy up & thin for tomorrow when I expect to get away. But today was grand weather, bright & clear & sunny, almost too warm. With what low tide we had I can see the Praia de Jora. There was much good collecting ground left near the town, but I did get a couple of nice things — three Palaeomon over the sand, of which I caught 3

And a third among the Ulva, that was crowded with amphipods, of the latter I didn't get as many as I thought I had though. I carried back quite a bit of the sea-weed I scraped off the rock for careful sorting in my room. Got color notes on the Palaeomon, they were over the sand in the vicinity of large rocks. You would be surprised to know that their feet are like needles the one I missed I climbed over my bare foot, (in the water) I looked to see what was sticking me so sharply in the heel, & before I could get my dip net into play he got disappeared. That's the one of the three in sand to which I missed. I believe of the salt water Palaeomon Morina, had not seen any at the time he made his last. It took me most of the afternoon to shaghter out the stuff & also sort over a bucket of things.

Schmidt and I collected the day before we left São Francisco. Yes I dugged that bucket full along the road all the way + just got it sorted over. All duplicates but I kept the things I wanted. It pays to take in everything in sight. I got a few more of the Petrolites with the Bopind, that I've already sent in the box for São Francisco. (described by J. Miller) but I didn't find any here though I said it was common. Wish I could stay longer but I must hurry on to Montevideo.

Slipped on a rock + cut my foot on a cactus, but that will be O.K. again. By the time I reach Rio Grande tomorrow if I can make good connections I shall not leave there. I also visited the S.S. office to see about tickets but done + got the information I needed. One cannot fly a ticket anywhere without showing the vaccination certificate, once in the country you don't need your passport but you must have that certificate.

The way to the place I collected lay past the cemetery. It's a mass of wreaths of flowers but 2 is a national holiday, both the day I believe, but marked in red on all the calendars + observed by every body. A day devoted to remembering the dead. All the flags were half mast in São Francisco when we left, and here the country is a riot of color, not only are wreaths + masses of flowers put up the graves, but tissue paper wreaths of the most gaudy colors. The cemetery is dressed for a gala occasion + looks rather more happy than otherwise. In the afternoon we passed a funeral but I didn't have my camera with me as usual. A little keener, the four pale, open blind they use here, and all the mourners behind and along the side walls, as for the keener itself only a child.

Thursday Nov 6 The steamer came in while we were at morning coffee much to my surprise - Yes the weather was grand and continued so throughout the day. We left at 3 p.m. in a bright rain/sun met a Rudolf & Kallner, an Austrian who sells a gas saws (German make) for Jards. He says all over Brazil is one & expects to go into Uruguay about the 1st. I had seen him at Rio Negro but didn't get acquainted at the time. Offered to take me with him so I could collect the country as he sold, as he sells and trunks etc. The authorized Jards dealer will not handle his article. On the 11 a.m. after getting packed up, he took me around town which I had not seen at all except the few streets between the Hotel bridge and Praia de Fora. Yes they have a bond (sheer case) like Paranaquá and with three mules instead of two. There are some sheepgraders. Schmidt, introduced me to a German jeweler, who fixed my watch and would charge anything for it. Just wouldn't, remember the dentist, well he always seems ready to do favors down here. The dentist for the landlady in Curitiba - the fellow for Schmidt (Jardes = Paulo Bader, Rua Felipe Schmidt N. 11, Florianopolis). Schmidt, even the sheet (mangled) one. Kallner took me down to the ship. The No 1 caregado, to whom Schmidt turned me over was most practically man, put all my stuff on board ship and even bought my steamship ticket for me. Every body speaks most highly of him, - a very intelligent looking fellow but with regular arabic features, straight thin + with bright sparkling black eyes. The steamer is small but very nice. I'll never find one as comfortable as long as I live - if I can get out of it. The Steamer is Paradise compared with the other line. Besides the Steamer Brazilian doesn't charge me any excess baggage while the Clotula, takes 15 milreis for the Saturday, Nov 7, 1925. Sat evening I met another German - Gustavo Flores - hands for several German firms that make all the little edge and ends used in the manufacture of shoes, shoe finding we call them. I asked the greater part of yesterday evening and most of today with King. He's going on to Pelotas where Schmidt is. I invited me, but I am in luck, the turn of the weather must have done it. I learned today that there will be another Sloyd steamer in Rio Grande within this week and that it will leave for Montevideo either tomorrow Sunday, or the next day Monday. It takes about two days. We are now in Rio Grande it is up to us now & we should be at anchor about 12 mid night or in the early a.m. All have to make my shift as the vessel the "Comte Alcedin" only stays a few hours on its way to Port Alegre & on to Pelotas. Weather is still fine & beautiful clear & bright.

Sunday Nov 8. Pulled into Rio Grande this a.m. with the other Sloyd steamer. The Presidente de Moraes got down to about 900 where we spoke of the Brazilian Sloyd agent. He said the office was not far up town that we would need to take a taxi, & so we did, you see the Comte Alcedin was at 12 mid + I had to go to the de Moraes office that. He said it was a hectic day there was one lady at the Sloyd office but a man later, he said we could not do business until about 10, after a car ride we returned and were told to come to get the things we needed again & so we chased after him, caught him in a carman, & he did for me after seeing the Sloyd agent and as it was not necessary on my kind of a passport. Then we went back to the agent & found I had to pay 60 milreis for a kind of tax on the country. All the cargo in the world would be lucky him free

anything to him. The joke of it was I didn't have the money & at last Sunday the American Consul miles out of town & wouldn't be read.
I don't let me have 50 millions which just made the passage money left about 15 millions over. I gave one of my American Express checks for ten dollars. And then the agent said I'd have to get the ^{log} department of Health O.K. for the way they'd be for 11-12 a Sunday, but that he'd be closed at 12. But mean while we had to rush back to the city to get my baggage off. And that was no easy job, as in the first place would be the wanted to get off the conveyed stuff first but a letter for the St. Louis American Sails forced that O.K. got my stuff on shore in a truck but I couldn't get it about the other side.

in fact had to leave it in charge a policeman & get back to town alone, to get the O.K. from the office.
I had got it but the — St. Louis had closed & left a sign in the window back at 2 p.m. nothing left to do but go back to see after my baggage.
And otherwise, and in the hot summer was hot. My St. Louis letter did the trick they took me aboard sending getting for what I had to take up time again for them I thought I would like to get off a telegram to my sister to ~~St. Louis~~ my coming & ~~after~~ ^{for} ~~season~~ through the customs, but I backed just 2 miles in of the coast at the first of the words, & they would take an Express check. There I saw a Brazilian instantly offered to help me and by taking the money I saw a number of the same including a letter office where the old fellow almost took me at a tremendous discount but he had

We tried again + met a slave the agent of the Hamburg South American Service. He said he'd give us the two million needed. But that would be no use if I had a few cables with 5000 electric taps as I could take up the office then I didn't tell him what I was doing. My last thanks though, no. I said I raise the money had not been Sunday or had I been still been here as I had been forced to take the train so much I know that the extra was called. You the agency as a long way from home - the street as it is slow, when you got to have books + food there is a time. This time for the first time I got a room to myself. I think all day long. I had better give some up to a nice article window. could be better first except for a little. I'll write this in the of my first year. Nov 9, 1925 we left at about 5:30 the a.m. should be outside tomorrow

Nov 10, Tuesday. Had a rather interesting trip good health + birds. I felt full of pep - I thought it was the climate of this part of the world but it must be the springtime which is now upon us.
 The two Englishmen we found both heavily into English. James ~~for a~~ for a agricultural implement + machinery house and the other ~~for~~ for electrical firm at Manchester. Very pleasant, but they insisted what I thought was the most startling information I have received since I have been in Brazil.
 All through the German section we been hearing that Germany had no debts in America + that it only wanted to raise our heavy loans etc. And NOW these fellows tell me the same. Yes and when I remarked about it, they told me what the other had said + were thunderstruck. I crossed out their names so they can't be quoted, but both the fine upstanding men, the one having served through the war. The latter said, "now mark you that's my personal opinion." But you mark me that fellow represents a tremendous mass of public opinion back home. I'm sure he's just over here eleven months. His political news, its immensity, ^{manifest} as such maybe, but I am astounded. He gave me figures of the billings we had to perfect etc. He must have a warped opinion + no mistake. You know the nation as a whole did not go into the war for money whether we were pawns in a bigger game or not + to certainly refuse to say so. Now told me Stanley Baldwin made a bad deal in the debt arrangement, that he could have gotten off at should have for 1% interest instead of 3 and a fraction and then and more. A newspaper article should be making my trip + he'd had money. We reached London with early but not till noon. I remember the custom house had been enough money was left my trunk in Rio Grande I couldn't well telegraph ahead with the next result I had to pass customs alone. But we've gotten used to this sort of thing + with my letters (Alber have them in the language of the country) + what explaining I could do, they didn't look into anything! Even held three chests for me in storage + the big rate till tomorrow as my pay or though it's a gain to the rule. (I'd save the fund of myself given if I do say so). Then I went up to the Consulate + got a very warm welcome from Mr. Marshall just like a home coming. Said he'd been for me yesterday, when I steamed for Rio Grande but I told him of my believe stops. But the other crate from Rio + the letter to the bank should

That a nice breezy day. Glad I took one cruise with one instead of sending it on ahead. I'll have to telegraph for them. The consul took me out to lunch where we met a Mr. who knows all the older residents. He is a good friend of David Sanchild. The whole business of the town stops everything looks up between 12 and 2:10 for lunch. Can't get on a bank or anything. At 2:30 we went to the museum to find Mr. DeLiffone, who can always be found there during the day. By the way when I reached the consulate, Mr. Marsh asked me if you know the hotel. I said yes. He said it will be arrived yesterday, had no news brought down there notice in the paper. Well in the museum they told us DeLiffone had come to the Consul's house with his wife. I hurried down there. The Consul to his office, leaving word for the Museum to call. We should be there. Missed the car the Consul's house, but no more had returned to the Consul's house. The boy called me to the phone, Consul calling said come right over. As I suspected one or both of the parties would have turned up. Yes, there they were, a home coming party. DeLiffone is short & fairly stout, dusky is not quite the word, white haired & with a long white mustache, quite German cast to his features. I've seen many just like him in the bar stubs, eyes his features are quite large and he wears a pair of little dark glasses on the bridge of his nose. After a great falter, which kept the whole consulate in an uproar for long after regular closing time, he

 town and the same street to the Bureau of Hygiene where naturally was already installed. Nice large Cabotage building building just far from the water front there where I left the water front & had already taken my 3 boxes for Washington. But didn't they back up a dock the boxes. They were addressed to me % the Council & should have been addressed to the Council. As it was they arrived as the Alfondago (Custom house) & the original got a notice they were the for the steamer, and would you believe it was only on the steamer house that they had originally come by them & they were not on the ship's manifest and the Council said to run them on his feet getting them out they appealed. Appealed to the highest authorities, but the laws didn't 31 cover such a case. It took an act of legislature, to release them. All because they were addressed to me I understood & because they were not on the ship's manifest, besides after the elapsed time between the announcement of the fact that boxes would be shipped no other word was received until they were notified they were in the custom house. I'll get the best method of doing this kind of a stunt next time from the Council, to facilitate my next Coast work. After visiting the Hygiene Bureau, where by the way I left got something in his sleeve, noticed as we stepped out of the front door he went right back, pushed the button that rang a bell three flights up, yelled up the stairs and presently three young fellows were down with bottles of soap & water & cotton swabs. Yes he makes it stand around down here (S. ...?)

Sater. we parted company, but left Laurie to go to his hotel for dinner.
He pays $4.00 per day but I can't to show him my 2.50 and a 1000 dth. room. So I left him a while while I looked up & did over some pictures & later we walked up to his place.
Dinner began about 3 o'clock here & last to half past 5. I think that you can dine during those hours, as for place I think you can get in at 7.30

Here you order what you want brought out. It's not all planned on the table as in most of Brazil, South of Rio but all things we ought to get the more & though I really don't have paper to write I can't get it all back out. I saw the Secret Key - it's also called without a warning - a prize little I think, & a small table 8/11 by an absolute Thanks giving. It must be that day in rather bad light down here where the significance of the meaning of the day surely is rather understood or appreciated, but knowing it, he said the prayer was especially made for me. Just to bed pretty late & to be up for eight o'clock next for shipping to get my boxes in a place where I can begin work & connect up with the Brazilian trip.

Wednesday Nov. 11. (Friday I must say the days are shaking by I left home by just a few minutes late to my surprise. I was to get down to work but the hands go out every day at midnight & return about 3 P.M. very convenient but unfortunate in that they are not making any of the long ex-water type. Brown anything is better than nothing. Gaberun will be glad to have me at any time. So far no good news place for my boxes. Oh by the way I tell me speak for tomorrow. I can read fairly well better than I can understand the spoken word. I find I've got to write it out so I can see it, then it's all plain. I'm off in the P.M. - English + Spanish. I've practically lost all the letters in Brazil + keep saying oblique, ate, large etc when I should say muchas, gacaras, Ruch la vista etc. I've promised long in Port = bueno in Spanish. If I stay around long enough I'll get over into it. Onde where in Spanish, fortunately very similar. After seeing Gaberun who said he'd be back at 11:30 I spent the a.m. looking over the docks for a place + saw the trawlers laid up because of the low + brimmed around the dock looking for a likely place where I could find any boxes, or that I could make a definite request of the Captain of the Port if he was going. At nearly eleven I went to the consulate + things to the Secretary to pay my goods to + ask for a letter. He the one the Mayor gave me in Rio. Well I couldn't get away. I didn't get my letter, as I don't take such things when not away to Boyle, but I was kept till way after 11.30 date. Ruch had my things sent there at 12:15 but there was no one up. At 12 + 2 you could do business except lunch but I was again he wants me to change letters. I don't like that, but I don't mind if I get the change as I'm too far packed already. Later I went to the Consulate + with a young man there sent a Gaberun message. Gaberun said may why don't you go to the Institute de Beza. They have been better than than I have & besides they will give you a ~~letter~~ place in their library.

 Now I know the place existed and have a clipping from a Spanish paper I found in San Francisco or somewhere.
 He I suppose yesterday several times but all he said was all we must go there but he always insists to do something else first. Some thing there is no but when Galena told me this I grabbed my hat down over my eyes went to the canal and asked if he would give me a letter to the director of the ~~San Francisco~~ ~~San Francisco~~ ~~San Francisco~~ I suppose this already spoken of this man to me & he ought to be good and it looks to me that there is a very cordial relation between the two. March said he would take me personally if Delipine would send the key of the case and I would get the case and send to the museum after him.

 He is about 60 and ought to get the good and of my dress and I could go with him. I will be going but not (after taking off a white cluster) & when down town with me.
 All say the same. He is a great walker and the street is a very thing of it.
 But he took me back to Galena when he tried to phone and nearly fell asleep on the chair and I would finally he hurried out of the building and after another half hour came back with his luggage and a note of what had been in England. He said the other in the States. He said the two took me in the Delipine saying he would me in the house and the 1000 change of the of the building down to the door where we stand on the 3/4 hour with the the other who could be paid a $6. I had got some here. She has a fine plant refrigerator and all and a very fine Culinary. When I was told of the malady myself and home. They have a very big place with a beautiful view in it, a new house is many things better. The whole lot is about 2x1/2 by 1/2 in the high, may I have cost a $4000 or more. They have quite a pleasant lot and a couple of very nice apple trees. I was visited by Dr.

Richard. So Decemograph, a kind of a note which in the house work of the and a companion volume in the house. I got to get them for the house. I let the other things we have the house here it just, I think of the house etc. —

I have sent my house down after 1 p.m. tomorrow. So I can make it by with the fish house but hope to be of all you will. I went to the office where I had been waiting, and for the amount of the price, I was charged sandwiches. In some ways I got I can drink a little, though I don't don't care for tea. I think as they are variable set around. Little about the coffee in Rio + Santos. I don't know which is worse, but the coffee than the Brazilian are a little more temperate than the Spanish. I was about eight when I got to the hotel + then as I thought I took time to have myself in a situation for him invitation. After eating I called on him + found him in the govt. I stayed around + had quite a drink. I left is coming down 8:30 to take me up to a pet collecting ground of his. He had gone off to bed 1:30 p.m. as I was last night. I didn't get any more sleep don't feel than at home + less for the stomach.

Thursday Nov. 12. Visited the friends of my yesterday stay. On our way back from the institute. The lady who told me that I'd better had had a long with the director. That the bird was just about lost a day running around with him getting lost. When as if he had told me the situation I could have gone with the bird & he'd not missed a trip and to see a whole thing the lady who, many who speak English had been sent also to visit, he left the day while we were in the dark, just around the corner for the institute.

Took 2 pictures. I left home got here about 9.30 as off we glitters in the roads. one of the many beautiful parks they have here & a very beautiful park at that point.
Regular California Park even as much like Golden Gate Park. even down to the is in Cinnabar palm trees are so common in yards there. A stream runs through the place and they have installed a lake for water fowl mostly geese and this are found many Aegleas of very great size of good size. They were not planted here ⁴¹ but the man in attendance said the birds overland up to the lake when it rained from the stream down below, where they never attained the size of those at the lake, the rocks lining the sides of the one covered with algal growth, & if the animals feed on this as the intermediate did in Castro it accounts for the better development.

Before I forget it on the way we passed a most beautiful rose garden, wonderful and you could smell the perfume for blocks away with no question, if course there was a breeze blowing. Hope to be able to bring a good picture of it.

With the aid of the man at the lake we fixed both lakes and stream closely but without result. The man said he could always get them so. He had a nest about 3 ft in dia. of fine wire in a long pole. but it didn't help. He said the recent rains at 10 p.m. when the drizzle went over. Capt. said it's on the ground 2 hrs. so I might sleep till 6. But 10 p.m. is the best time for a tow net haul. I made one, but the masses of Clathrospira here, about 1000 the catch. They are everywhere & all day long we see them drifting by.

Nov 13, Friday. The net came up at 9 p.m. The men know their job & every thing goes off like clockwork. Net is hauled up till boards hang from gullies.
Then net is pulled up by hooking fingers in meshes (over side) like bag a belly of fishes at surface then two ropes are for each side & board are untied & forced over shoulders & whole hoisted till bottom of net swings clear of deck, rope at bottom is released & catches drop on deck where it is sorted, after looking into baskets. There are two Phrynosoma magister (I saw 1000) & Coronula (many) (in delatation) and very little else.

The net is rather coarse mesh & I've not got much in my bag. I did get two white a little of Panophrys (I think) the way in the form of half the fish. I took several Beneides, 2 Panathia (I think) is fish & a few more later. The cook on station spent 14 yrs in N. American but couldn't speak a word of English & a cool person who speaks English & rather begged that I take their picture as I did, granted, & before I left the vessel, about everyone of them took me aside for a private interview to be sure that I brought them a picture of the picture. It's almost pathetic how these S. A.'s want pictures and into a good way of squaring accounts & stringing up furnish. The steamer got back at 5 p.m. but before I reached hotel it was 8 p.m. and I still had to wash & dress before I could eat. You see, I had to tend to my specimens as the doctor before going to hotel, and after dinner I rushed around to hotel to tell him 46 Could not go with him Sunday as I had planned, because Delippen wanted me to go to his dinner with him. Delippen had come by about 8:30 to make sure of the date & time stamps. He got a lot of the chimerae (Raf. sp.) common. I didn't think that with savings I could ~~have~~ ^{have} seen & found that they were dead a block with "clams" (limulus) Sater in the laboratory. I didn't find any reference to what they fed upon.

Maybe I've added something to literature.
Also noticed that this S. A. species is not common in collections as I am going to pick some next trip.

Saturday 14 Spent some at Institute going back over some of my Th. & A. sp. colls collections to put them in a box & get little more unpacked, & change yesterday's stuff. As place closes in afternoon tried to get a little back writing done or will get few things to get the book done.

Thermoleas who is in charge of 47 (speaks both German & English) former letter however, we speak German came back at 4 p.m. I did not get back to hotel till about 8.

Movie N.G. + pretty good. 13th the boys in the school have been 14th

Sunday 15-1925. Glad I arrived night before, as hotel R. H. Gale at wake me till nearly five when Delippen was coming for me in taxi. He did get here before I finished dressing & I practically did that in the auto. He is a great 2nd, rushed around the way then & then we had to rush off again. Got on an awfully crowded train. Found and later it was a little less exciting to find dinner to some special service the cathedral. Gave us all badges on the train & sold pictures of the Virgin, picture you one for 20 each.

Chatter & a jabber all around. Yes there was a band along too, we had had picnic lunch as did Delippen too. We had quite getting seats. ^{man} The one person will hold as many as four seats for others, or late comers, + his claim is respected. Finally one one is seated + we got better seats for us another. We were in what usually must be a dining car though the tables were not set was such a car as I could see later when we went into the real diners. The young "sports" walked up + down on the station platform from cycling in all the windows + presently everybody began to clap loudly as the fire engine walked by the wall in the station. With all no rush! The train was almost an hour late starting. The day was warm + lots of thin birds were in evidence. Green seems to be the color of the special occasion a number of people wore green ribbons but those on the badges were striped, the national color of Hungary. The station seems to be the whole in small places is very off from the town. Had to take an auto + then we walked to a nearby grave as did most everyone else to look the lunch. Schiffner had brought along. But enough for 4 men. I do know, but not seeing him eat. I remember about eight days, bottle of wine + 1/2 of soda, half a loaf of bread. Two sausage, 1/2 day rice + butter, cheese + delays + I think some meat, just about half of what I could stand away. We ate in a little summer house, in a grove of trees belonging to a Mrs. Henry W. Burnett. Who has been here about 50 years + flowers most of the trees around her. I don't remember. The country is like Kansas low rolling. Grassy hills, well watered, with just scattered clumps + small groves of trees + lots of horses + cattle here + there. After lunch tried to do this with an auto to take us to Punta del Este, but they all wanted to much, tried horses but finally got hold of a police man who said there was a bus (3rd truck with planks across from side to side of highway only which would give us a two hour stay there and took for $9.00 each. The auto (also I don't want for $3.00-5.00. The money here is like at home, but one has to get of the richer habit. $3 million = a dollar + if one doesn't watch one's steps you begin to think 7 pesos are like 7 million instead of ~~the~~ 7 dollars. And Punta del

Este got just a few cents, + some ^{amphipods} ~~amphipods~~ + few shells. The tide had gotten pretty high before we got into the shore. On the auto I'd promised everybody I would take their pictures so I had to take a group even though I didn't care for.

By the way he's coming to Washington about next May, at least he put the month later. When I told him I was going to be away next year too after he spoke of coming. He said 'Caramba!' After that he said he would come in May or June. By the way he knows my Spanish dictionary

I had bought the two little ones with me, ⁵¹ while we were out in front of the church he wanted his picture taken. Though I didn't know it at the time he took my books out of his pocket + laid them out a convenient ledge as he said. I forgot them. The primer! now don't let me I buy another! After getting back from Punta del Este (there where I took his picture) we went in the church but what was service was going on we just being concluded, + we filed out of the building with the rest. I copied the parks in front with a lot of things, where some political committee was going on, to a beer place on the other side, where some dancing was going on. Yes right after church the dancing club spun up just as in Brazil + the young folks danced all afternoon. One had to belong to the club to get in + this ~~one~~ ^{one} was right in front of the beer garden.

We didn't get back till eleven p.m. it's a five hour trip each way. and on the way back the train was so crowded we could sit together nor could we get into the dining + Peliffone had given away what little lunch we had left before we left the picnic grove. So we went hungry + then as before that I had to chase down to toward the hands for a handy trip but much chance to sleep again. Although I drozed a little on the train coming back I tried to leave my bed untouched.

Monday Nov. 16. In many ways it was fortunate that the hands made for good hands, for we got back at about 11.30 a.m. I got a number of the rat-fish + looked through some more fish specimens but didn't get much, though the data as to contents may be worth while.
I had an opportunity to see the bad catfish in the evening as both Green + I had dinner together. He had just recently come over from B.C. + thought I had had a couple of letters from him. I saw him for the first time for a little while just after lunch.

at 12.30

Tuesday Nov 17 - All of this is being done I went to the bank to see the mail clerk, for I want to see when it comes in.

This morning we had Kanda + I went down green + I went down at 10 a.m. had to get to the hotel with the rest he wanted to know + I was a little sick after specimens of dry before I went to bed. Green was kept to dinner + after a little walk back to the hotel I did a little writing - picked up my traps for trip with hands. I was a little tired to get little more sleep than usual.
Had to sleep in wash room + I had a good night's sleep.

Wednesday 18 - Nov. 1925. Had a good day, got a few rat fish, + a lot of though dry fish. I got five cats, one a fine one, like brevis + allex

At night after dinner I called on the hotel clerk, I told him of Johnson, and spoke of an invitation Delippen had sent me for lunch at his house on Sunday. Well you believe us we talked of that & many other things till about 1 o'clock in the morning.
 And I said I would come back on a. m. to go to church with him. The night before the way to Delippen. After church, when Sunday 22.
 by the way we saw Mr. Marshall the consul & the hotel clerk, spoke to a former Oberlin girl, as we still had some time to spare we walked toward Delippen & saw many parks just a few blocks away.
 It was a beautiful clear, not too warm day. They have any number of beautiful squares, well kept up & full of flowers, plenty of benches too and here on Sunday morning a great many people are walking around or sitting about reading the papers. We have much time but it was interesting comparing notes. There are very few blacks here, the people are a ~~little~~ more hispanic-like, hence more aggressive & little less polite than in Rio & Brazil still in spite of that (except the well kept) the people seem very contented. The women have taken a more advanced place than in any of the S. C. republics, even to having a Sunday closing laws for cafes & beer gardens etc. but this was not extremely unpopular that is was later repealed. Out in the suburbs through which I rode on my way to Planet the streets are asphalt or concrete as at home, the houses have nice gardens & an air of well being pervades all.

 We reached Delippen in the dot & were made most welcome. He had an English friend a Mrs. Harris present to help out in translating. The house for the street is double width one side of the door, that is one side of the door, where Telephone lives. On either side of the vestibule is a large square room. On the left as you enter being a small

ly furnished office. It is an hall & professor's chemist. He works in a room to the kitchen. He works as chemist, or any rate he gets about. Just behind a small room then the he changes a similar room for the hospital here where he is considered to be on the medical staff & further he is paid by the museum, where he is the botanist. He all he gets at least as much as 500 per month, as I was told, (for little work). The scientific (?) people here are terribly jealous of one another & as Thomson told me just kinder & hold one another back, the work is instead of expending & helping one another along. Now I got back to the house to the right of the entrance hall in a room I did glimpse the doors were closed. All of the rooms have big high double (French) doors, the rooms themselves look about a story & a half high & all were open so I could see what they were. The hall gives into a large tiled court open to the center to the sky, the floor can be closed by drawing a canvas away across it. There is a row of sitting room furnished with leather furniture, & of the plants table & two etc. behind this is the dining room, hall leading back to a second court & to the side the row of sleeping chambers.

 The floor of the hall ^{rooms} tiled, the rooms have wooden floors & carpets. The walls of halls & courts are ~~to~~ ^{the} ~~stone~~, marked out in stones, like the rich pebbles line the palaces, the rooms are plastered & papered.
 No room has an outside window except those opening on the street, only the large French doors in the courts of course every thing is large & roomy & connected with the courts, but we can never see out. There is a great measure must explain the general hanging-out of the window blinds all South Americans I have seen so far have. The dining room was quite a banquet hall by large table down the center. We were seated at the table & there was easily place for five or more others, Seloffme & his three daughters, all grown women having husbands & c. The meal was most elaborate we, as seen usual in countries, at least when guests are present & more a banquet than lunch. Seloffme was present and while sitting in the court but fortunately I was lucky able to refresh myself, as I was late to that service.

 Seloffme having left me in his office to translate a German postal, for one friend Kremer by the way who had returned a short time before from a collecting trip to Asia Minor.
 Presently we were introduced to the ladies & ushered into the dining room.
 Here there was little water, a covered table, and a little maid brought in the first course I should say by I am inclined to say round. Cold meats of various sorts, with rice croquettes, wine was poured & served through the rest of the meal. The cooking I believe is all done by the daughters, with the maid for help.
 They are said to be most capable women.

64 Then a thick rich chicken broth, rice & vegetable soup in one was served, and after that ^{salad} fish mothered in peas. And the fish was dog-fish. I suspected it from the bones & shape & found I was right on inquiring. It was delicious. I have always wanted to eat it & now I have.
It is boiled after skimming nice white & flaking & free from bones. Then fried chicken followed, as was its roast & + disembowered in the chicken & lettuce salad, all on the same plate. Then what I thought was the dessert was brought to me cubed fresh fruit, sugared pineapple, apples, cherries, bananas & maybe more, then a wonderful layer cake covered with white of egg & little colored bead candies sprinkled on the layers were quite thick, so were the the custard layers between, there must have been twelve to 14 or more layers.

65 The cake being five inches higher than it was. And the layer had been made in some sort of sweet syrup before being put together. They have a great habit of so healthy cake there before serving.
Then champagne was poured, and but not least in this country coffee & tea offered. To escape the coffee I chose tea to my later regret it was strong enough to kill a horse & black as the coffee!! After a little more chaff I wanted to leave with the hotel clerk who went back to his hotel to write but Delipina must see him to the cars or put on the hill that gives Monte video its name.
I gave him a few tips, but I wanted to get my own letters too, but could not.
It took over all afternoon. Though the ferry runs every fifteen minutes, when we just stopped you J. wanted to visit a Spanish shop which just across.

not much time the ship which seem quite political more so than any I have gotten on, but to get as I found three glasses of beer, fortunately I was able to escape me. Think of it after all at dinner.
 J. certainly likes him what you may call it. Will certainly die of chills, or he liquor if he ever makes the States.
 The man from the man in fine, a word panama, though his name is similar to much as a photo. but I insisted take one. I was great in the minister and I don't like to refuse because I don't wish to offend him. Oh! yes I got out of about $\frac{2}{3}$ of the pictures he suggests but some I must take. After all I suppose he often thinks I would have them myself, & thus he gives me out the beautiful things about me for fear I will not notice them. It was quite a drink up but J. is a good kitchen about water. I was after seven when we started back & as the ferry is near the hotel, he might off the water, but he came along for another scheme of beer! After that he had to go home. I wonder if he took more for supper? Did I tell you of all the drink he took at the way to & from hotel & church that one Sunday last? One at every turn almost, but one place he stopped the water here to get out & get me. After supper at the hotel I turned in to catch up sleep for the night before. and then being with a on of the 23. I have to go by the ^{Legation} to get the Riv boxes released, as they are addressed to the minister. I find I have changed from finishing up J. house.

 After dinner we went out in the back of the canal up a steep narrow stair to a room above the kitchen which half as high as the other rooms. Here he has a great many books, mostly general publications, all kinds of state documents, Agri. reports etc. bound in leather on the Congressmen used? to get them. Then we went up a balcony in front of this room up another little staircase to a couple of rooms on the roof. Dr. Schiffman has most of his books, collection & the rest of his library. 25% of these are U. S. G. Govt publications - the other half chemical & medical works. There are all in addition to the books in his regular office down below, where he has the Proc. & bulletins of the Museum. And a lot of separate which he thought important to have bound himself. Upstairs he has his alcoholics etc. & down in his office he has the dried shells & he has a wonderful collection from this country mostly all put up in cotton in mounts like the Pikes mounts at home, only smaller & deeper & more made. The rest of the house has flat roof, but separated from this section by a wall & gate. As these two rooms, one on each side of the building, are not opening & fenced off by the wall they cannot be entered from the outside as house to be in the room & hence are quite private & only accessible from below by the main staircase, where persons enter the doors & where you give light & when the doors, which have either wooden shutters or curtains in the inside are closed. The wall and of 3 feet high in the back corner is like a shelf white painted like. I have also noticed in many of the houses where the sheets striped curtains over the doors & door ways screening the interiors of the house from passers by, & for house shoe draped windows & and what several odd adorns on the churches & etc all the morish influence here, & explaining much this shabiness is strange the habits & the people.

Monday, 23, Nov 1925 This a.m. I had to rush up to the Segregation to see about my boxes from Rio. Mr. Morgan Rodgers had decided to send them. But he was kind enough to get the Segregation & other people to take them free of charge. Mr.
 Smith the minister kept me for a couple of hours talking as I didn't get away until before twelve when made it necessary to go a day to go to the Consulate & finish up before 12. Got there to take ^{business} and return at one. The Embassy man who was with me I took back to the Consulate & told him that he should go back at 1 and get the things and deliver them to the Directorate de Pesca. I asked Mr. March to lunch.
 He said things were in general. He asked me & said I should tell Melcay to come to thank him for his house. He you know I'd forgotten they was such an event. He didn't have chance to talk of it before. In the afternoon I went to the whole lot of fish to see how they were coming on. I seemed to be O.K. but my poor lungs. Pickling the fish in the first place made them terrible. This made them worse. I've put them in formalin I had to buy 10 liters & I had the stuff more than five marks. Changed a lot & at 7³⁰ walked back with Sander to hotel. He lives just around me & we go home each evening together. Did I tell you the new tea in the Cabaret? It is a lot of and that I've done my share by buying, which was a mistake. This evening might be going to B. A. or his business. Did him as I went to dinner with him, & walked out to the auto show at Pórtico, very nice but we couldn't stay long as I had to meet Mr. March. I ought to go up on the fish steamer, he wants to try his luck, got back about 15 minutes late & had to dress. Made it 11:30 after we got on board. I slept on the bench down below again, while I had let the boat. I really slept. He didn't have much to lunch & neither did I, though we made two dredge hauls with a light dredge, got an shrimp & lots of larvae.

 He had been fishing in the fish stomachs.
 The bottom is a soft black ooze, but also with mollusks. The fish came in rather well as he got back to town just half after lunch, so I went to hotel to clean up. Rainy after, terribly muddy. Got back to hotel rather late as I had to go up town to buy two thermometers & couple of film packs. He stays here open till 7:30 here & as Thompson went with me I went around with him a bit till he got some business transacted. As I regarded hotel ran into the hotel who had come down to see me, so I invited him to go with us to Banco del Santa Ines, with Thompson, Thompson the small & I.

Tuesday 24, July 1906

Wednesday 25 July 25. Had a great day but the Consul didn't show up yet we didn't meet up with him. So instead Thompson and I caught the little toy train, and after a tour through some reach the end of the line. The chief business of the R.R. seems to be sand. Mostly in thought to the R.R. water comes from the other side of the river by cableway & there loaded in flat cars Thompson got on train at his station San de la Arena & we had a great got first all the rest of the trip, so much so we didn't see the scenery till the return journey when we were all rather tired & wanted to rest. Sheds of fences of roses, an alfalfa & palm just in in California & rolling country like Kansas a good many know this country side only its higher & green & well watered.
 California is the Spring & as flowers.
 Thompson is a member of the Santa Rueda, Verano of Montevideo, & looks to the boat house where I changed into old clothes. Then we got a row boat & went up the river on Little Bay, to work on the grass flats. Got a number of Helix? crabs in my number though they were not as easy to catch as the flats had been just of water over them. After you saw a crab you just needed to put your hand on the water on one side, hold the dip net on the other & hold the crab right in it.

Instead also got quite a number of the dip net along the banks of the river to per-my up under the roots of the grass plants with his net. After some time of this we returned to the boat house & went back into to the hotel, a very nice place for dinner.
Had a long talk about things in general, biological subjects in particular, & the importance of having a scientific collection in this land where of the various South American scientists are a collection of birds of better good ones. The race & the climate, but I think of more than anything the South American love for birds.

They let us of a South American society.
And three meetings, Chile, Peru & Brazil, ~~Chile~~ collected after the master and, no body came to speak of & decide the government officials tried to present the leading places in the offices of the Congress.
I happened to come the morning to find whether they spent enough for the position, largely from the way they feel about see about. I saw a man who is a big game philosopher. I saw a man who is a big game friend for life, and to speak of all the papers & men who are full of spirit shots of groups and then in that gathering a freedom with the names of the scientists performing. In the time I went with me to the river we saw a film entitled the champion which matched between — x — All we saw in the pictures was growth of such leaves & soft before game, no bird of picture of the stands. The common sense must have made a complete record of the no small stadium, then the common poured up & down on front of the President box through front lines, along all the officials & members of their families & families who the President. (The President here for all starts things off in morning have full championship in hockey (2))

Then the President gave the ball a little kick to start. Really to the field. It was the end of the first half we little cup of the flag, just fit of the in stands, popular here but not for an outside. After dinner we went down in the river for Thomas and water made about for Kinsale that bridge, no shrimp, some crabs & lots of shells, got a lot of things in dead tree hanging. Made us shoe last, by some rocks & got a few more.

The water in shore here was just as clear in the river, with the rocks. The water giving up things the more, I was of the shore the & out of the water, and the over for skating, any & there were not degree of any consequence. The men got a few feet of the water stand (the little thing but very fast). The water must all be too pink here for the beach, morning from dinner here (of some kind of the, but not later, taxes to & for skate to some water & dodge). I walked down with the water back & turned in. This is very early Thursday morning. Nov. 26 - 25. The Thomas & I left - 2 1/2 hours, the afternoon and yesterday's stuff. The hotel, I left by 11 noon & I walked up to the hotel with him, took a car back. In early afternoon I went up to see a friend of mine ^{Gordon Accorato} with him, getting back to look at 3:30 to meet the car & go as we expected to meet Thomas &

Another German, by name of Kogelmann, who ought to meet Metcalf, & who he wanted to meet. But, when we got to the hotel at 12:30, we found no one to doubt that it was just before we had to go to Helsinki for Thanksgiving dinner. He washed up at Metcalf's. But + took the half hour car ride out to Poopla. A beautiful beach in front of the hotel & windy today. We walked a couple of blocks along it before going to the new apartment. Had a nice American dinner, chicken, plenty of (after soup) with peas & mashed potatoes & jelly, bread & butter & water. Then a little stimulant salad (tomatoes and cucumber to come in) and a braised Quail with sweet apple sauce between courses + a new cream. Laided over that, tasted "differents" and very good, after drink which was at 7:15. Put on old clothes till about 10:30 when Metcalf & I left.

Metcalf & I were enjoying the walk from the hotel along the Ranta. A beautiful cement walk + a sand skirted the ocean shore & beach all the way to town. Three miles is only part of the way to town. We were to have seen the rest of the way. But took a car then should have seen the great Metcalf Hotel to my own but rather big marked Plaza Independence as designed, about a mile away. When I got there I found what the night was they were having a political rally & parade. The Liberal Party, Party of Labor, & Red, yes, there a Red and flag - although all but not an anarchist. Dates back to one of them was could believe when the first soldiers had no uniforms just little bits of red pants to distinguish the group for the group. There were all manner of flags, banners & mottoes, groups of instruments, so much bands all were shouting out the lyrics & you could hear the sound of the celebration.

college football riding the way the cheers & shouted themselves hoarse.
All Centro/heads of cars/traffic was suspended. It looked as though the whole town was marching. The parade was in section, but these banners were in no particular order. I must have arrived at about the middle of the parade. I saw 9, 10, 12, 20, 21, 15, 16th etc. sections from beginning much of their order & some little numbers were at the tail end.
All marched down to the water front where in a small square they were hassled by the order of the day. I left here & only with difficulty was my sheet was jammed into the lot at about 12.30.

Friday Nov. 27, '25. This am. I to go to the Embassy to Rank Mr. Smith for attending to my type. As he was out I had to write him a note while they looked as a few minutes to Post paid had seen. After that took a walk along the shipping district to the Hotel for lunch, had seen Mr. March before going to the Embassy & he told me the Thompson line could take any lot of fish back in the 3rd.
In the afternoon I came out the Embassy & Vogelberg lot, as I took them and Fremont up to the Buca of Wyre & the fish lot as he had left the former. Vogelberg is going to get himself some more frogs.
We returned to the Sub at 7¹⁵ I took Vogelberg by the Hotel for supper. for he was anxious to go on the hawk with me I took him along. Oh yes

I wanted to make another trip on it to dredge in the English banks, but just as luck to have a very nasty spell of ~~the~~ weather when we got outside Huddersfield a little next day, at all things I got in a motor boat. Got dredged for English sea then came on the side.
 But I suppose was a bit of a bit with time, I don't suppose I could have succeeded in a calmer day. I try to think I'm immune to the sort of thing.
 The Italian cook said if I could back next Thursday or Friday he will fix me up a regular Italian dinner. He craves to get back in the States. But I guess there's no time to see the Consul about it already. But the afternoon is at least labor day, and at night turned in early.
 I never sleep much as that is under especially the rough weather.

Sunday Oct 29 This a.m. I put in the Pat getting ready to pack up. The little must go on the third & I want to pack in a little more bottles as I have a of course the alcohol needs a final changing in a seal & I didn't go to church and missed a dinner invitation to Markin, & a walk in the afternoon. at 4:30 I went to the hotel & called on all the boys arranged to meet to pay for respective dinner calls to Delafosse, but probably because it was election day we found him out. After a car ride we returned to the hotel & hotel packing & I stayed and talked in the evening.
 Today we got to get that the packed in the 5 can be covered. I may not be here the third day in month when the steamer leaves. Thomson wants to take me to Cape Polmar, but we shall see. I'd like to make it in order to bridge the gap. We left in the north coast of Honduras.

Monday Nov 30, 1925. Got packed things in stuff boxes to go back to steamer, will pack about tomorrow a.m. as I have to go out collecting in afternoon. This afternoon saw Sr. Daniel Garcia Acevedo, a well-to-do thing, who is counselor for a number of American firms & the American Consulate as well. He has promised to give me a number of letters along the road of my desires, also paid a call to a General Bassano who owns some real estates, to let him collect in them for freshwater shrimp and land crabs. Spent the evening a little reading & less writing.

Tuesday Dec. 1st. In a.m. looked at notes, letters and at laboratory. In P.M. began to go to Prado with Jaen-olazar and got a/basket of Aegle ~~sp. sp.~~ laevis only small + medium sized ones through under pile of drift grass + under stones night at helio + light.

Dec. 2. Had to let the Hll go over this a.m. It was once got but now complete. Going to Prado broke up yesterday's plans. At 4:30 had only come by the laboratory where Thomson and Vogel are, & had only me. Thomson had the Hll copied up. could not get along without his help.

Dec. 3, Thursday, started on my Argentine packing, & after all a.m. spent clearing around getting papers straightened out for getting Hll free passage. Goes aboard ship tomorrow but I'll have to wait to look + Thomson. It just has to get aboard. after lunch closed at 7:15 we went up town to engage an auto. truck + also an auto to take me to the train, nets are to leave for me to carry. Spent night pretty late to mail.

Friday Dec. 4. will be enroute to Port Bahama. ITB running outside New York.

86. 4 Friday. Left hotel in time to catch a 7²⁰ train at the Central R.R.
Station, and to stop by the Instituto de Pesca for the same old dredge before going.
Vogel and I didn't show up + Thomsen came just a little before train time to tell me that the summer schedule was in and that I have to wait till 9²⁰. Just before 9²⁰ it began to rain, and it rained in the night as usual when I prepare to move. I remember said this is the most for a season the summer he can recall (that says California too, or is it the same the world over). We arrived at San Carlos at about 2 p.m. in quite a stiff rain, and the Richman auto said they couldn't make it through because of the rain, but we went as far as the hotel "Grand Hotel Concordia de Gilberto in Benitez", from the exterior like any other street building, interior around a large open court.

In the dining car the train, the dining 87 car comes through the coaches first and asks who has many expect to eat, the meals are table-de-hôte, but it seems a good plan. Our diners or some might be able to run things cheaper if they did that, but here it isn't so cheap after all $1.50 for the meal.
Subs see "roast", fish, "steak + peas", chicken and lettuce, and some for the luncheon, coffee or tea. And one waits to 10 tables of 4 each, but I never yet have seen it more than half full. On the Monday odd excursion with I. Clifton, and the return trip we couldn't get within 3 cars of the diner on the return trip, so I have yet to see a crowded one.

The San Carlos Hotel room is dear enough, but the flies! The dining room was kept in semi-darkness all the time to multiply the nuisance but you can't stop running flies that way. In the back yard of the hotel is a lots of birds the river was already quite high + dirty + full of drift. We knew that I had my nest in the water then it started to rain again + of course we got soaked, in spite of Phung's best. We finished the book, made it out to see that on the later we had again, and got caught exactly the same way as yesterday. There were not as deep, we both turned in early + just as birds would have missed the day musical concept I could have had the opportunity of hearing. I read the program on the hotel floor the next morning.

Dec 5, Saturday. Things looked good today but the water was still high, so we took a walk went down to the river by the ferry and there the ferry man who was fishing yesterday gave us 5 or 6 crabs, as he said fresh water, but they were salt.

When he insisted they were fresh water and that the river was fresh. I asked him to killed them he said in a can of fresh water but it wasn't the water that killed them it was that they got cold over night! On passing the ground he said the washerwoman sometimes couldn't get the soap to work + that the water did show a rise and fall; surely there can be no question but that tidal water, salt, extends up to San Carlos. One of the one fellow who had come on from Rocha yesterday we tried to get a boat trip and while we were arguing with him, another Rocha! auto drove up! It seems the fellow had come half way to the bigger creek + couldn't get across. Now there is a empty store near the place there has a phone, and the auto driver

We were working over horses this but didn't tell us as is belonged to a rival company & he wanted to reserve us for himself. He was a dandy. Meanwhile the other came around inspecting, in small groups of them had come through so we took the up having gotten disgusted with the black fellows. So off we started in the lunch, which was 3 pm. Finally. Well the road was muddy as all get out The whole country is fenced in some cases hundreds of field, but all directions they have found it makes for better handling of the cattle and convenience of the forage crop, also permits them to get along with few cartboys. So the main roads are all fence, are about 100 yds wide and often planted with trees. But the width though is looks nice (gives nice impression) is not design but necessity. They have the large chows of cattle & horses to send from place to place. And an advantage, for on the roads are for the (very) greater part absolutely uncared for, the auto wagon has a 100 yd width to pick good spots in such rutted ditches etc. If it were more clay like around castor & less scruffy mud we should have remained stuck more than once fifty or more times. The water in running across the fields makes gullies in the road, and naturally the chaffer chaffer seeks the less deep parts of the gully. The result between Mr. Roles and gullies the auto goes back and forth over the road continually and This is no exaggeration

 Some places
 it is worse.

answer is to travel about 3 times as far as would be the case if the road was good. Occasionally we would cut across fields to the next road of course through gates. These are just stretches of wire with short posts not in grounds pulled taut across the opening by a stick through a loop of wire.

fence

The stick is a little hooked. One catches the loop of wire, with the fence post as a fulcrum you draw the "gate" higher and then slip a second loop over the long end of your lever to hold what you've taken up. The fence posts in this country are the most miserable things imaginable, crooked as the case of the little crooked man in Mother Goose. But one man used these goods to good advantage in making a gate for the path to his home.

In Canada we had wooden fences + most of the gates we passed through were long poles sliding in holes in the gate posts, which were great kingly affairs, but there is a wooden country with cheap lumber. Yes the holes were cut in the posts & ran some of our other small fences.

After pushing through numerous little streams we came to the big "river". Well there was plenty of water in all directions. There were three autos in our caravan. We sat in a Studebaker, there was a Chevrolet + the universal Ford. A boy got out of one of the didn't sleep at night before going on this trip 96 write letter to mother and machine to try the depth and shifted fell & gave up the attempt. We had passed an ox cart just before reaching the stream & so we waited till it came up. The man on his horse rode over to test the depth. It came up to the horse's belly. Then there was a grand row-work & measuring of the water marks on the horse and on the cart.

The man with a rope half fast to the chevrolat. The Chevrolat made it alone & the Ford stalled in the middle and had to be given a slight tug with the rope, attached to the horse's saddle.
Now we didn't go over in the machines, a few did, but the luggage was put in the cart to keep it dry and we rode in the ox cart. These are great huge affairs with big high wheels & spoked, the carts are not higher than the men sit upon them for shelter from the sun when eating meals. One of the way to 97 Rocha was much the same, except that the only place we needed help. By the way the floor boards were wet in the car when we climbed in again, & the chuffs cranked the machine the rest of the way and using the self starter. At one place we had to stop & monkey with the oil. Later had gotten into it some how & satisfied with the dark band that indicated.

Approaching Rocha the roads showed some signs of being cared for. We arrived about 8.30, and sat right down to dinner.
Afterwards Thomson wanted to make a move, but we didn't see but the first couple of reefs, we both got so sleepy.
So we went home & turned in, the next at lunch, took a walk, & got a few sticks from under the bark of an a few a few from an Acacia in the creek & then went back to hotel to take auto to Station. There's a train from Rocha to San Salvador, the nearest port, as horses run by train, about 37 miles, I believe. From hotel to train we were told by the hotel keeper was 5 minutes it took us nearly fifteen. A usual way out of town.

The auto man said the distance from St. San Carlos to Rocha was 16 leagues by meter.

Sunday Dec. 6, 1925

It was an eight o'clock train and we got to San Paloma in an hour. Walked to the only hotel Gamba + had a nice lunch before taking our baggage. After lunch, sent our cards to the school teacher who is also the local naturalist + got back word she could see us at any time. Made an eleven o'clock call. She has quite a representative collection of most of the local forms including Antennaria longicaulis which the people here treat as a rather rare plant to a dozen. Now the lone fisherman has moved away + there is no commercial fishing done. I ~~thought~~ ^{thought} Ranzano was disappointed. After buying a couple of nets all the way from Montevideo we didn't even get them used unless we got a boat. I didn't see one by we wanted to rent one which never appeared from another little place up the coast. Got in a couple of turner banks, but only just today, more than I have gotten elsewhere all season latter together. The teacher has promised to collect if I will but send letters and if I send them here to the Instituto de Pesca they will be forwarded. The school is quite the grandest building in the place a tower in one corner, looks just like a summer resort hotel, painted with blue shutters + trim. / San Paloma is but a sand beach + dunes with some rocks, pebbles, + ~~black~~ ^{light} brown like North Beach, but still of some 100 putance as the part of Richa. The collecting was fair, but more than the two and half days I was able to find in these wild shores have described an interesting things. Never saw so many amphipods or sea weeds, in spite of which I digged up a single shrimp.

It may be that southern amphipods don't get as big as northern ones but I did get a few Randina ones here. But for the moment I'm getting "north" as to speak with respect to the fauna. But are promised me but I got none myself. They are found in Oregon but here and here. After lunch at the Guntra we collected the beach to the school and after supper used the time in addition I looked through two bush-bags stuffed with sea weed that to of the school boys brought me. / In the school here the poorer children are taught all manner of handicrafts to fit them for useful things later. They 101 had some book-binding, rug making, + making of cornucopias for the candy store of ~~Richa~~ Richa. They had one magnificent rug and rug there all a mass of the children worked on about 8 feet square. It is to be raffled off for $200 (that is the sold) and of the proceeds the school takes out cost of materials and little for support of school and rest goes to children.

Monday Dec. 7 This am. we collected the other side of the inlet ~~where~~ ^{in which} the town is situated, and in the afternoon, further along the beach from yesterday found much the same sort of material. The beaches are covered with dead shells of all descriptions, and I had two dredged articles I believe I would have gotten the best returns yet, oh! for a boat I could do my hardly in and the digging for. I saw a few of the dead shells but I am almost almost to bring them back. The rock formations are a sort of slate with greenish fossils, many more formations between look just like flint, between them there was a soft layer that might be flint remains. In a pool there could almost pass for a fossil which Thomas said looks a trachid. (I didn't have a little with me for a sample, all for the hotel) we got three frogs. After pulling up our plunder, after supper we called on the teacher, a sort of farewell party as we were leaving the next day. Had to go as I expected to go with Tremblay to General Barron's country submission home just outside of Monterrey on Wednesday we had to get back by Tuesday. At 12 midnight I tried on the train but they hadn't left yet. I thought they were rather change, made several rounds but Tuesday Dec 8. On the few hours before leaving we took a few more shots of the place. We couldn't get a train, and ~~in~~ time to connect with the other line via Queretaro as it was a festa on the church holiday and some change of schedule, or no train or cross. I had to be back Wednesday to keep an appointment so there was nothing left but to call an auto from Rocha, but that could only come part way so we had to take an old carriage, the one that carried our baggage before, the road was so sandy part of the way that we had to walk. At San Carlos we met the auto, & the way to Rocha was much the same as to there from San Carlos only dry now so that we made little better time, nevertheless it was slow going because of the many bumps & holes for which we had to slow up.

Left Gumbo (Hotel) at 10 am. arrived Rock at 12, at 11:45 hr. for lunch changed auto (both Ford) and left there for San Carlos at 12.30. Makes me think of the long express days, & after all it's just as exciting to think about a mad dash for it with the aboriginal roads that all you could call it, then shortening into Rock being left out for lunch, & then home on the auto drive up for 12.30 with all the baggage transferred to it and a quick start & get away, as quarter to four we rolled into the R.R. grounds ^{at San Carlos} 15 minutes before train time.
 Just time to get tickets & check nets.
 The funny how inconsistent things are on the San Palmar R.R. we had to pay extra baggage but not here on the Indian and inter-tribe line. It always seems to give little tips to patrons & station attendants then you can be sure there will be safe and prompt delivery. I started say the tipping is the worst feature of travel here but it's probably just as bad out home. I've never travelled there with so much junk. Got back to hotel at 9.30. Taxi man tried to get me for half dollar in fee than his meter was broken. Had a mean scene in hotel door, but fortunately I could not hear them say "lightwood check spots" etc in Spanish for that it must have been, but I know fortunately what the fee should be, had ridden there with Schipone on my Maldonado trip.

Had I mention ^{any} of the most interesting things that teacher had. I have a time to go back and see. She had the skeleton of two commercial sponges such as we have in the west Indies, and a piece of Sargassum weed, which had drifted in on the beach. Where could they have come from way down here. ^{Could find} the note I made of the name just now must have picked it up, but as for as I recall it, it was Sargassum cymosum from Samoa. It was identified by an Italian algologist.

She has promised me a specimen of it at once, to be sent later. And if the find is sufficiently interesting, I can know the species. She redesigns the interest attached to the specimen here later to hang on to them.

Dec 9, Wednesday. Ship gone. I got my seats out of the check room at the Hotel, + bottled stuff we got at San Paloma. After lunch I saw Tremblay + he said Borsani had put him off, had to call up in the that it had I know it should be stayed at San Paloma another day.
On leaving Borsani said he would go with us in the a.m. but that he could be held for a short while later a taxi and not go any the street cars as we had planned ^{for 10:30} the summer. There is an old gray hair gentleman, cuffed with shawl.

All we wanted of him was a letter to the consulate on his subscription place permitting us to collect there, + he insisted that it was necessary that he go with us.
That was the worst of it. As usual it rained in the early morning + because of his claims he postponed the trip till afternoon, but only after we reached the house in a motor + the hat was in off. In the afternoon, however he had his gardener collect for us + we had only to run out + get up. It was deep or turned in early. We got 10 + 10 mixed

Dec 10 Thursday. As the I went to bed early. Early of 10th I called on Coul to make good bye, very call at home. Mr. Marshall is about the most pleasant + helpful of all ones against I have met here in S. A.

108. 10 p. Ed. Draftsman I determined to get a glimpse of the Museum & go back to the hotel to clean up (from the lab.) Just as I entered the door I happened call one up, said he was coming right over.
So after some ~~time~~ we went, I had got there after him, ~~he~~ showed me through, never the less. There is little more to it than an enlarged the best collection in birds, some fishes, and a few other specimens, some of these are of the other than South American things. There are few more fishes, and some mollusks, a couple of fossil vertebrates, from the San Pedro Museum, and a large number of other specimens. What I left me to tell me was that I should go with him tomorrow to Santa Lucia, not the Barro Santa Lucia, but another place by a different rail road. Now I have [illegible]

I also got the chance to get back to the laboratory with my stuff & properly pickle it. The laboratory is open from one till 7 or 7.30 p.m. after which I walk back to the hotel with Tremblay by the time I cleaned up a bit + have had to wait through a slow meal at 9.30 before I'm back in the room which is almost bed time sometimes I take a little walk before turning in.

Dec. 12 Saturday I had to pay a farewell call to the minister, just as we can't leave town without so doing and then I had to hurry back to the hotel to meet Talbot again. For the Instituto de Pesca I have a key fortunately so I can get in in the afternoon on Saturday. Changed about for last time as junk I've picked up around about. Bought 55 tickets to B.A.

Dec. 13 Sunday Had to finish personal packing in trunk and suit cases for if I can make Puerto Prudencia I shall be leaving the trunk behind.

Take only the suit cases. I went around the B.H. boat about 9.30, but didn't turn in till eleven when the boat started. At that time it was lightning in the offing + later I heard thunder, but I soon fell asleep. I don't know whether it rained or not. Got on to B.A. about 9.30 but the docking + unloading before the quarantine, or police officials who O.K'd on to check stubs so that we might go ashore took some time + then I had to wait for the Dangers boxes to be unloaded in order to pass them through custom. Not knowing just when I was coming I had to make out unannounced by my letter again did the trick + all was passed unopposed. I had thought the hotel call would be there ~~but~~ ^{but} I've ~~over~~ ^{over} ~~left~~ ^{left} as he would have been. Turning all my boxes + luggage over to the local express for delivery. I took the street car to the hotel where I had the chance of getting unpacked as the stuff was still among, having been up late the night before.

Right after coffee we called on the minister but found him out. The naval attache is planning a trip to Puerto Madryn, but hasn't yet a time for going. He is afraid to go. He is away so I can't talk it over with him. I want to talk it all later in the week. Then the evening we went to the Consulate, & the vice Consul with whom we did business is the son of Phil Gary who taught at Tech High School. Spent in Cleveland Park at least there where his mother now is. Graduated from Central in 1917. That's the nearest I've gotten home yet.

Since Monday's business hours close before 12, + 2 so I left the Consulate in a hurry to get my last $200 changed in to Pesos, and the way got a map of the town, while the Mutual went out to the Bacteriological Institute. We arranged to meet at the Y. M. C. A. for lunch. Of course I was a little late but I rushed around to the several steamship companies, with special letters to see about getting to Port M. D. with special permission of the Captain of the Port I could travel and freight but the only line I could find with regular service wasn't got till middle of January. On that I could travel for about 30 pesos. There are two lines taking passengers but they want 320 pesos round trip, heavy baggage extra! It looks as though I'm sunk! That would

about all I can + I would have enough left to live on. I got my Santa Cruz mail, but no word from Hans, whom I wrote at the same time.
If I had that money I could do a little better. Then the gray dog + back in uncertainty. I do want to clear up this this year, but I don't see much hope.

B.H. has about 2,000 or inhabitants and looks is a tremendous busy place, but with all such narrow streets and side walks, it annoys him and his. To make any sort of progress we have to walk in the gutter half the time + then the street cars usually on track to the street are so close to the curb you have to watch your P's + Q's to keep from being bumped. But the architecture, is most peculiar. The buildings said is looked as though children had built a lot of fancy play houses.

It is big game to say the least. But then do have nice parks every little way + the Avenida de Mayo makes an outlet of the Rio Branco in Rio very much the same appearance. All the cafes have tallies and on the side walk which on this street are very wide. Often heard I went by the museum line to see about getting free transportation for those vehicles. The Thomas manager was very nice about it but said he would have to wire headquarters for permission. I don't know what effect this will have on my plans, but I've arranged for the damned birds now in Montevideo, and I can't back down. I can't get a reply till Thursday or Friday.
I had thought it could be settled

Mr. Thomas the General Manager has said they had had some trouble with a shipment of live things once before & that when they arrived in New York something was wrong with them & they had to carry them back to South America again. Moreover I must care for them myself no man of the crew could be detailed or spared for the work! Hope with about these birds won't sketch the whole matter because usually when I plan a book on something I don't ^{think} Mr. Thomas could give me details ^{as} his ^{is} the man who knows them was out when I called.

Then we went to the B. A. Museum to call on Professor DeLor-Jurado, the director & also curators of the invertebrates. A very nice though busy man. When we first called he was out, & the assistant time for. So sat between them we saw Mr. Roberto Holbano, a friend of DeLor-Jurado the local ornithologist. He told me there was no one trying to catch live penguins here; as they had tried it here in the local zoo & they didn't live but three months & without pure salt water they suffered from eye trouble. He thought ~~we~~ might have penguins over water than the backside stuff they have here. He didn't realize how far we are from the ocean & besides the birds need small fish & crabs to eat. Many will have to do without penguins unless I ^{keep} ~~keep~~ ^{get} reports on how they can be kept through with some hope of success.

On going back to DeLor-Jurado, we had a very nice ^{session} ^{was} ^{again} to go to collect all along the Patagonian coast, but don't know when he can go again. Would like to next year (but it could be arranged) He is a conchologist, but tries to keep all the invertebrates going. But a young lady here is in charge, who also tries to look after the amphipods, but seems to keep no one as deconfused. In to go back at 2 p.m. today to see what they have in their collection. It is dark & rather late when we did get away. His library is wonderful & he has lots of material in literature chiefly of mollusks. The little things I got of the exhibits were not inspiring but his work room certainly is. So we told him he was about the best kept in the part of South American zoology.

 He is very busy, but he says that no excuse for answering a letter to Hall once. It seems the Dr. Hall is considerably miffed with him & he has asked me to convey his apologies & try to handle things. It must have happened about the time he went to Europe after the close of the war I believe. He tells me that they are hoping to open a small biological station at Mar del Plata & that the wooden building should be completed some time next month. It was too late to go to the Y.M.C.A. for dinner when we left the museum, so we drifted into a German place before returning to the hotel / here for the first time I have a room without a window it opens on a court, & has shutter again close before the door at night. Here we have rooms without meals for 3 francs a day, about $1.40. I don't know how it will work out, but I don't want to stay in town longer than necessary. After coming back to night the hotel only to see to the museum and then back to see Charles Chatter in the 58250 building.

that day. I rode up town with her in morning. Yes the house was bare. A pallet + a chair, + not so speedy as at a reasonable price. In the morning over + came back on surface canyon (can't do anything here between 12 + 2, as in morning did. So I took back to hotel + unpacked + went back to museum. We didn't get much done about that morning. But I wish you could see the collection here! Oh the things they pay the fishermen for the stuff they bring in! I could describe them May say. Branches for big in your fish, everything imaginable! They there should be any more only further with but still they must be lots of small stuff. And there a young woman working in shops. She said I'd like to go day + they would be glad to exchange with me. The Juarez said they had just left a lot to be sent out but that would do it I could catch along with duplicates. And the shrimp + crabs, particularly spider crabs. If this Rialto could only have had them for her money I'd see any Portulaca other than Peltandra here, + a few large xanthids such as I found at San Paloma.

 And Bryozoa + barnacles + planarians and not Mollusks + starfish etc.
 Why it was just like the good old collection days to see all this. The best marine invertebrate layout I've seen yet + more coming in each day, beautiful a clammer + sponges right in the front the groups + arranged + categorized with with few names. Juarez works as bookkeeper + has one young man to help him. There is another young man for small mammals + one there where duties are not too little + much to do in place. I had to say at the Endless Peltandra shell and don't mind in the next few weeks of the Nov 16 - Wednesday. In the morning I went out to see the Zoological Park. It is a fine place in the morning & I to get in before the American houses open. We went at that time. It is a small but beautiful park & lot of interesting animals. They also have a few farm animals, sheep, a couple of bulls & a pony. I think we should have something like it in our zoo for the children. Lying in most large south American parks I see there are extensive lakes and lagoons & besides a little temporary game rail way in which the children often run on a ride. It must be great fun for them. I wanted to ride myself. Some of the buildings are of the Spanish style & architecture of the country for which the animals are for instance the Indian elephant which there are three are in an Indian temple. Certain monkeys for example an Egyptian building. They have a great number of animals running around loose probably because the place is well fenced. I did not tell you there is a 10/1000 in the house there. I saw lots of water birds too & the husband took some pictures of sleeping flamingos. He then took us at liberty - forgetting affairs when they sleep stand on one leg. After the zoo we went to the museum. While he had there was no answer to my telegram about the birds. I must look this before I stay from the place. After an early lunch I met and returned to the hotel to complete his packing & to go across the country to Valparaiso tomorrow leaving at 9/15 a.m. I shall be sorry to see

I had planned to go with Dr. S. B. Platt to see the Museum there, but could not spare the time and I missed out on my original intention. I had to go to bed. The house here no English. I do not think the architecture is as comfortable as ours. Most of the day coaches have a center platform + a platform at each end that inside you are always in a half length coach. It is deeper by the way and all compartments affair. It is just like the compartment. That is just about as modern as the other agencies + waiting rooms. There is always a second class ticket office on one side of the building, if not particular reason then to make the for man run twice as far as the first class passengers. In a republic there should be no place for a such pro-distinction. Our plan of transit for the cheaper route + all in one with upon a ticket office is much more efficient.

The country is flatter than a fair cake + very consistently having gotten a local it took me more than an hour to reach San Plata.

Like all other South America small places in the character of its building + dwellings it is remarkable in the very wide streets and side walks. The walks must be 8 to 10 feet while most of those here except on the newer streets are scarcely 3 or 4 wide. If I am a foot off in the morning I would have to say 12-15 ft the walks in San Plata. The Policeman told me the train to take ^{#25} and in 5-10 minutes I was in the museum park. A most beautiful one with no end to it as far as I could see, with lots of lakes, lagoons + creeks.

boats & even a little launch with many men in to take visitors around.

But the museum. I will never find the words to express the profound impression those wonderful, magnificent fossil shells made on me. And much to my surprise they had quite a zoological collection and a case of unidentified crustaceans with just locality labels on the specimens.
I got hold of a German Geologist attached to the museum staff & he promised me all manner of things to take back with me but I must do the sorting & packing myself. He could not promise to have it done as they were so very short handed just like in the B. A. museum here. I tried also to see Mr. Carlos Bruch who used to be here but he was out. I was waiting for him and as soon as I reached the station two minutes

Got back at 9.30 + turned in just as it was mail steamer day today!
Had fever felt pretty sick

Dec. 21st. Monday; 1925.

This a.m. went to express office to ask for boxes + enquire about paying excess baggage on board ship. It was o.k. but the funny part of it all was when I left the main office to go to the warehouse I lost my papers somewhere. The first + only thing I've lost except that trial of accident at Florianopolis. Couldn't find them anywhere on the street. Makes me feel as if someone snatched them out of my hand. Had to go back + explain it all, then had to run back to hotel for passport. Finally they gave me a letter to the warehouse man telling me in my boxes + told me there was no danger of anyone else getting my stuff out even if they had the papers.

Went to see the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Carlos Vallejo. Very pleasant told him I would keep in touch by mail as I didn't want to miss any tips. Told me of a trip 900 miles south of Cape Horn but Dooler-Juador said it would not have paid me they go down + back + I wouldn't have had much chance to collect, besides it left the day I arrived Monday 14th. Worked over collections at Museum till 7.30 went home + to bed.

getting packed up. Well vacate room in A.M.

Monday 28 Yesterday afternoon missed just the greatest find it would ever have been my good fortune to witness. Well that's that. Got to bus. at 8 a.m. to finish checking lists & begin packing vials in bottles etc. (Some had a gift) at 4 o'clock Dr. Schell-Jugend introduced me to Dr. Hentschel of the plant study from Hamburg & told me that the Meleg was in town. Had been for two weeks & would be pulling up stakes at 6 p.m. as I rushed down in a taxi with Hentschel & got a cursory view of her & her apparatus. Well, his highness & Wüst & about 3 others whose names I didn't get.

By the way at 11.30 I rushed in taxi to get S.S. tickets to Montevideo, from there to Express Steamer where bet. main office & warehouse it took me 1 hr & more to get matters arranged. Had to wait most of time for two men who had some mixup about their baggage & in waiting there was no one at the desk & I had to wait for him.
I thought I would have a fit with the running around I had to do had to visit the consulate, & the German line to thank them for all past favors & Ruben Harder whose folks like Rambor left the States after the Civil War.
Then tried to find Gregory first at one place & then another. got back to home about 3.30 when shortly after met Hentschel. after getting back from Meleg, was back at 8 p.m. but got every thing packed! Oh! yes also saw where we had remains of New Year's turkey & fixings. Came back at 3 p.m. took a nap before Felippone turned up. Wants me to go successfully. While he had two beers I had

But here's the best part of New Year's night. I turned in early? 10 p.m. but probably? I lay awake in bed reading a couple of magazines I picked up in the hotel lobby. Toward eleven the room began to feel terribly warm & I began to smell smoke (had my window in way up over my head in wall, in room floor below where I usually sit, and see out of window except when it is on a roof of adjoining building it has bars, so my room is all the world like a cell.) 2 1/2 times width of narrow single bed & by the length of my steamer trunk longer than the bed & about 14 feet high. 2 x 2 1/2 ft. high window with cross bars. I opened the door cracks & O.K. looked up at the sky & could see flames leaping high. You bet I got busy quick, put chain on table, climbed over top of the clothes press & there a ramshackle old movie & boxing palace in house removed from hotel & around the corner was ablaze, was of wood & constructed in construction. Cracked but didn't quite break through top of clothes press. got down O.K. and dressed over my night gown in a jiffy packed all my stuff best I could & piled it near door. Then hurried out in street to take a look at the hotel inmates were gathered by door with hand baggage ready to leave & along with proprietress ready to leave. Outside I saw that flames were leaping up against small windows in wing of hotel, so I hurried in & went to room where wind was & me & she was smoking & little tongues of flame around rash & joint. I got hotel prop. by hand & lead him up showed it to him & forced a bottle (carafe) of water over it & told him to get more water. he did & then sent me couple of men had to stay there one hr. more or less. glass fell and curtain burned & whole frame badly charred, as there was a bed under window it might have been pretty serious had frame fallen in ablaze. Broh. was quite grateful offered me a drink later & today Jan 3, paid for my share in shop across street where we both happened to go at same time, this a.m. he had cancel hotel bill but his too nice about little things. Think I won't get just wait & see.
